

PERSONAL DATA PROTECTION (GDPR)

Last updated: 15 July 2026

Version: 2.0

Website: spectline.com

Spectline is a creative studio providing VFX, animation, 3D, motion design and post-production services. This notice explains what personal data we process when you use our website, contact us about a project, use our services or subscribe to studio updates, why we use the data and what rights data subjects have.

1. Controller and contact details

The entity identified below is the controller of personal data and determines the purposes and means of processing.

- Controller: Spectline
- Country: Slovak Republic
- Contact email: info.spectline@gmail.com
- Website: spectline.com

2. Personal data we process

We process only data that is appropriate for a specific purpose. The scope depends on how you communicate with us and which services you use.

- Contact and identification data, such as name, company name, email address, telephone number and billing details.
- Project inquiry data, such as project type, scope, deadline, budget, requirements and the content of communications.
- Contract, order, payment and accounting data required to prepare a quotation, deliver a project and issue invoices.
- Project files and source materials, including video, audio, photographs, graphics, 3D data, names, likenesses or voices where supplied by the client for processing.
- Information connected with a portfolio or showreel where its use has been agreed or another valid legal basis applies.
- Technical information, such as IP address, device type, browser, system logs and cookie information.
- Email address and consent records when subscribing to studio updates.

3. Purposes and legal bases

We process personal data only for specified purposes and on one or more legal bases under Article 6 GDPR.

- Responding to inquiries, preparing quotations and taking steps before entering into a contract - pre-contractual measures or our legitimate interest in business communication.
- Providing VFX, animation, 3D, post-production and related creative services - performance of a contract.

PERSONAL DATA PROTECTION (GDPR)

3. Purposes and legal bases

- Invoicing, accounting and compliance with tax or other statutory obligations - compliance with a legal obligation.
- Protecting the website, systems and project files and preventing fraud or misuse - our legitimate interest in secure operations.
- Establishing, exercising or defending legal claims - our legitimate interest.
- Sending newsletters and using optional analytics or marketing cookies - consent, which may be withdrawn at any time.
- Publishing work in a portfolio or showreel - contract, licence, consent or legitimate interest, depending on the specific agreement and material.

4. Contact form and project inquiries

Our website contact form may request your name, project type, email address and project details. Providing the data is voluntary, but without contact details and a basic project description we may be unable to respond or prepare a quotation.

Where an inquiry does not lead to a collaboration, we normally retain the communication for no longer than 12 months after the last contact, unless longer retention is necessary to protect legal claims or for another lawful reason.

5. Project materials and client responsibility

When delivering a project, we may process materials supplied by the client. The client is responsible for ensuring that it is authorised to provide those materials and that any required privacy information, consents, licences or other legal conditions have been addressed for individuals appearing in the materials.

We use project materials only for the agreed production, communication, delivery, technical archiving and possible portfolio use where that use has been separately agreed or is otherwise lawful.

6. Newsletter and direct communication

We use your email address to send studio updates on the basis of consent. You may withdraw consent at any time by using the unsubscribe link in a message or by emailing info.spectline@gmail.com. Withdrawal does not affect the lawfulness of processing carried out before withdrawal.

After an unsubscribe request, we may keep a limited record of the grant and withdrawal of consent where necessary to demonstrate compliance and prevent further messages.

7. Cookies and technical data

The website may use strictly necessary technical cookies required for security and basic website operation. Such cookies may be used without consent where they are genuinely necessary.

Analytics, preference or marketing cookies are used only after consent where those technologies are deployed. Consent can be changed or withdrawn in the cookie settings. Cookies may also be removed through browser settings.

PERSONAL DATA PROTECTION (GDPR)

7. Cookies and technical data

During normal operation, technical logs are generally retained for no longer than 90 days unless they are required for longer to investigate a security incident, protect rights or comply with a legal obligation.

8. Recipients and processors

We do not disclose personal data to third parties for their own marketing purposes. Trusted suppliers or partners may, however, process data to the extent necessary to operate the studio and deliver services.

- Website hosting, domain, email and technical infrastructure providers.
- Cloud storage, file transfer, project communication and backup providers.
- Accountants, tax advisers, banks, payment and invoicing providers.
- Newsletter, analytics or cookie management providers where those services are used.
- External collaborators involved in a project where necessary and contractually protected.
- Legal advisers, insurers, courts, regulators or public authorities where required by law or necessary to protect rights.

9. Transfers outside the EU/EEA

Some technology providers may process data outside the European Union or European Economic Area. We make such transfers only where they are covered by a European Commission adequacy decision or appropriate safeguards, particularly Standard Contractual Clauses and any additional measures required by the GDPR.

10. Retention periods

We retain personal data only for as long as necessary for the relevant purpose. Project and contract data are kept during the collaboration and afterwards for applicable limitation periods. Accounting and tax records are retained for the periods required by applicable law.

When a retention period expires, data are securely deleted or anonymised unless continued retention is required by law, a dispute, a security incident or the protection of legal claims.

11. Data subject rights

Subject to the conditions in the GDPR, you may request access to, rectification or erasure of your personal data, restriction of processing and data portability. You may also object to processing based on legitimate interests and withdraw consent at any time.

Requests may be sent to info.spectline@gmail.com. Before responding, we may reasonably verify your identity. We will respond within the period required by the GDPR.

If you believe that processing infringes data protection law, you may lodge a complaint or initiate proceedings with the Office for Personal Data Protection of the Slovak Republic at dataprotection.gov.sk, or with another competent supervisory authority.

PERSONAL DATA PROTECTION (GDPR)

12. Automated decision-making

Spectline does not make decisions based solely on automated processing that produce legal effects concerning you or similarly significantly affect you. We do not carry out profiling of this kind.

13. Data security

We use appropriate technical and organisational measures to protect data against unauthorised access, loss, alteration or disclosure. Measures may include access controls, secure transmission, backups, system updates, data minimisation and contractual obligations for persons handling the data.

No method of transmission or storage is entirely risk-free. We therefore review security measures as appropriate to the nature of the processing.

14. Changes to this notice

We may update this notice, particularly when our services, suppliers, technologies or legal requirements change. The current version will be available at spectline.com.
